

Department of Political Science
First Year Review

Student Name:

Summarize the main points brought up by both the student and faculty advisor. Students should reflect upon how s/he felt the year went, plans and thoughts about the direction s/he wants to take in the upcoming year, who s/he wants to work with and any concerns or issues the student may have.

Faculty feedback should give the student an idea of how the faculty sees the student's performance, through departmental rankings and discussions, and course performance. You should also discuss the student's study and research plans.
